Dear Commission,

I am writing to request the removal of the condition on Standard 5, Criterion 5.4. This is not a full Q&A report and as such only information related to Criterion 5.4 as support materials are included.

The faculty size and load in Business Administration allows for the fulfillment of the mission of the academic programs at West Virginia State University. Certainly we do not have any excess faculty and could improve our programs by adding new full time faculty in keys areas as we grow. Effort to add two additional full time faculty to the program are underway currently and should be completed before our next academic year. Our goal is to provide at least one doctorially qualified faculty member in each concentration. All of our full time faculty and part time faculty are professionally qualified to teach the courses for which they are assigned.

Faculty teaching loads are mandated by the University and guided by the West Virginia Higher Education Policy Commission. Generally, each full time faculty member will teach (8) courses or 24 credit hours in an academic year. We have modified our offerings to ensure that this includes a maximum of (6) preparations during a given academic year as well. Currently all of our full time faculty are teaching in only 1 discipline, with one notable exception of Dr. Aleseyed who occasionally teaches in Economics, a closely related discipline.

In the enclosed data files there are some exceptions to report that need some further explanation.

In the Fall of 2010, Mr. Mark Andersen exceeded the maximum load due to a last minute illness with a part time faculty member that left a course uncovered the week before the start of the semester. Mr. Andersen covered this class to prevent a disruption in the student's academic progress as an emergency measure for one semester only. As a result we are reporting an overage in FTE to reflect this additional class.

As mentioned above and restated here, Dr. Aleseyed taught a course for the Economics Department as part of his full time teaching load in Fall 2010, that is why the number of credits in Table 5.5 does not match classes in Table 5.4. It reports the 24 credits taught but only shows the three classes taught as part of the Business Administration program.

Dr. Frank Cotae is included for the Spring Semester 2011, he taught three sections of the BA420 Senior Seminar class for this semester only, as a full time professor. We have since hired another full time doctorially qualified professor, Dr. Alan Tillquist to teach these classes for the future.

The final exception to the prescribed teaching load above is Mr. Michael Lewis who currently has a 3 hour course release as part of his assignment as department chairman.

Of the part time faculty listed in Table 5.4, Ahmed, Mitiku, Shafer, Nixdorff, Dillard are all full time employees for the University. They are teaching limited classes in a part time capacity for the Business Administration Department as part of their responsibilities. Dr. Ahmed is a member of the communications department, Dr. Mitiku is the Dean of the College of Business and Social Sciences, Dr. Nixdorff was the director of the Entrepreneurship Program currently under development in the College of Business and Social Science, Mrs. Dillard is the Executive Director of the Research and Development Corporation, and Mrs. Shaffer is an assistant to the Vice President of Academic Affairs. The remaining part time faculty have special industry skills that make them a valuable part of our faculty for specific disciplines, in Accounting, Management, and Finance. All part time faculty hold at least Master Degrees in the field for which they are teaching.

If you need further information about faculty loads please let me know.

Sincerely,

Michael D. Lewis

Michael D. Venis
